

MAP OF EUROPE IN 1914

Prior to the First World War, the great powers formed alliances as a way of protecting themselves from attack. While these alliances were defensive, they also allowed countries to act much more aggressively if they were supported by their allies.

Without the aid of your textbook, try completing the following tasks . . .

- A) Label and colour the members of the Triple Alliance.
- B) Label and colour the members of the Triple Entente.
- C) Label and colour Serbia.
- D) Label and colour Belgium.

If necessary consult your textbook on page 28, but this needs to be automatic for the exam!
